Many people take comfort in photographs when remembering a loved one who has died. We can turn those photos into a very special tribute... on video and completely free of charge. Featuring your photography and set to soothing background music with striking video scenery, there is no better way to memorialize your loved one. Allow us to make the memories of yesterday a cherished gift for generations to come.

Video Tributes:

We want each and every service that we conduct to be as meaningful and memorable as the person whose life we are remembering. There is no better way to do that than include a video tribute with pictures of their life. Each photo does not have to be of the person that we are remembering, but it should represent an aspect of their life. Also included on this tribute are a couple songs, they do not have to be hymns or about loss and dying. Think in terms of a soundtrack of their life.

Webcast:

In addition to recording the services that are conducted in our chapel, we offer the capability to webcast the service for those family members or friends that are not able to attend in person.

Your director will explain these options in detail during the arrangement conference.

These services are provided at no additional charge to every family that we serve.

Obituaries

Obituaries have also changed to accommodate today's connected world. As part of Richmond Times Dispatch's obituary charges, once an obituary has been placed in their paper, it is also posted online. You can access this at:

<http://www.timesdispatch.com/obituaries/death-notices/>

Our funeral home will also place the same obituary or if you choose and even more detailed version on our website at www.morrissett.com

Both sites should be checked for several weeks following placement because many people will leave notes of condolence. If you need, our staff can print them off for you.

NO ONE SHOULD HAVE TO MISS
THEIR LOVED
ONE'S SERVICE.

Do you have family members in another state or overseas?

Do you have relatives who are unable to attend the service?

Do you want a recording of the service?

Ask us about our ability to broadcast funeral services live from our facility securely over the Internet at no extra cost to the families we serve.
