Why have a place of Permanent Memorialization?

A place of healing and reflection

A consistent place for healing allows for family and friends to find comfort long after the services are over. There are a wide variety of personalized options for cremation. Finding the perfect memorial is a reflection of the life lived for future generations to learn about their ancestry.

Scattering of cremated remains should be done legally. It can be done in a beautiful and meaningful ceremony, or simple and private. However, we always suggest that some cremated remains be retained and placed where you can gather and remember - a place that is marked for all to see that this life mattered. (Please inquire about rental of our air powered scattering gun.)

Choosing the appropriate vessel to place these treasured remains is a difficult decision. We do not pressure you to make it quickly. We will provide a temporary container at no charge and provide you with catalogues and other resources to help you make an informed decision.

This Urn Price List shows a small selection of urns that are available to the families we serve. We use all the major urn manufacturers. Between them we have access to thousands of urns. We use this list to show a good cross section of what is available. Through our virtual showroom, our staff will show you as many as you want to see in order to find the one that best fits your taste and price range.

Unlike other funeral homes, we do not double, triple or quadruple the wholesale cost of the urns that we sell. We simply add a few dollars to cover our handling, cleaning and presentation of the urn selected.

Custom Engraving, expedited shipping, and other special requests do have additional charges associated with them. Your funeral director will be able to give you an estimate of these charges before any order is finalized.
